

Fall 2020 Enrollment Guide for Doctoral Students

Phase 1 and 2 Enrollment Times for Fall 2020 are available in CalCentral on your "My Academics" page. Please review the following information regarding the process to enroll in your classes. For course options and schedules, please consult the UC Berkeley Schedule of Classes.

As a reminder, all students who have not advanced to candidacy must enroll in a minimum of 12 units each semester to remain in good academic standing with the department and Graduate Division.

INFO FOR PRE-CANDIDACY DOCTORAL STUDENTS

Degree Progress

You may confirm your own degree progress by reviewing your Academic Progress Report (APR) on CalCentral. To access your APR:

1. Log-in to CalCentral. Click on the "My Academics" tab.
2. In the middle column at the bottom, you will see a box titled "Degree Progress" with a link to "View Academic Progress Report." Click on this link to view your report. (Under "Degree Progress" it will also state that "you have not completed any Graduate Division Milestones." This is correct and normal.)

3. Once your APR appears, click on the "Expand All" button at the top.
4. If you have questions regarding your APR, please reach out to me (swphdadvisor@berkeley.edu). Please also consult your faculty advisor regarding the classes you should be taking in Fall 2020.

INFO FOR DOCTORAL STUDENTS WHO HAVE ADVANCED TO CANDIDACY

SOCWEL 299: Independent Research

Generally, doctoral candidates enroll in Independent Research (SOCWEL 299) with their dissertation chair and committee members. While you are no longer required to enroll in a minimum of 12 units to stay in good academic standing with Graduate Division, some funding support sources require full time enrollment, which means you would need to enroll in a minimum of 12 units to meet "full-time" standards. Please note that Independent Research Forms for Fall 2020 are due by Friday, September 11th. After submitting the required form, see course enrollment numbers provided below under General Information.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Earning Credit for Academic Appointments

Doctoral students may earn 2-4 units of credit for serving as a Graduate Student Instructor (GSI) or Graduate Student Researcher (GSR). Readers are not eligible to earn credit. Students may request for credit to be added to their schedule once they have completed the on-boarding process with HR. All credit requests must occur by no later than Friday, September 11th (end of the third week of classes).

Independent Research Class Enrollment Numbers:

Once you have submitted your Independent Research Form, and you enroll in SOCWEL 299, be sure to check your schedule on CalCentral to ensure you have enrolled with the correct Professor, selected your preferred grading option, and selected the appropriate number of units.
